

Clarendons assists Bosch with new 'AutoCrew' joint venture

29 August 2017

Clarendon Lawyers is very pleased to have assisted Bosch with its recently announced 'AutoCrew' joint venture with Supercheap Auto.

Supercheap Auto is one of Australasia's largest specialty retailers in automotive parts, accessories and fitment solutions, and part of ASX-listed retailer Super Retail Group.

The partnership will combine Bosch's leading technology solutions with Supercheap Auto's retail footprint and customer knowledge, to establish new independent full service auto workshops, initially in the Greater Sydney area.

The first 'AutoCrew – Powered by Supercheap Auto' pilot workshop is planned to open in Western Sydney in early 2018.

The Clarendons team was led by Director Robert Feiner, who was assisted by Senior Associate Julie Lyons.

Mr Feiner congratulated the Bosch team on the project, commenting that "we are very pleased to assist Bosch with this transaction. It's an exciting project which brings Bosch and Supercheap Auto together to offer new and innovative full service auto workshops for consumers. We look forward to seeing the joint venture go from strength to strength."

Supercheap Auto was advised by King & Wood Mallesons.
